

As you all are keeping safe, I hope you will enjoy these poems. You will find several well-crafted prose poems as well as lineated ones together with a couple of experimental ones, which act as their own artwork. The art work to complement the other poems are simpler in this issue than in past issues